

Moore & Associates Provides Timely Solutions for Several Medical Centers Across the Nation

LA HABRA, Calif.-Dec. 29, 2008--In recent months, exciting, challenging, and fulfilling opportunities have been secured for several medical professionals through the efforts of Moore and Associates. Medical Centers have found timely solutions for their executive needs and complete satisfaction with our recruiting process.

Union Hospital in Elkton, Maryland is welcoming their new Manager of Cardiology to their executive team. Spring Valley Medical Center in Las Vegas, Nevada has added a new Director of Pharmacy to the Valley Health System. The largest academic medical center in the western United States is Cedars-Sinai Medical Center in Los Angeles, California. Two positions have been filled through our efforts, one a newly created opportunity and the other an existing opening. Cedars-Sinai is welcoming their new Director of Licensure, Accreditation and Regulatory Affairs plus a new Manager of ER Admitting to their medical community. Two hospitals in the San Diego area of California have secured candidates through our efforts. Scripps Green Hospital has brought on a new Administrative Director of Surgical Services and Alvarado Hospital has a new Vice President of Human Resources. Moore and Associates is proud to have assisted these medical facilities in securing answers to their administrative needs and found new chapters for these candidates' professional careers.

Medical Centers across the country have opportunities available to prospective candidates currently seeking the next step in their professional careers, or those wanting to stay abreast to executive healthcare needs in their particular area of expertise. Recruiting assignments our firm is actively with include, but are not limited to the following:

- Regional Vice President of Ambulatory Care - Western United States
- Director of Case Management - Southern California
- Director of Maternal Child Health - Northern California
- Director of Maternal Child Health - Southern California
- Department Administrator of Labor and Delivery - Southern California
- Department Administrator of Neonatal ICU - Southern California
- Director of Pharmacy - Southern California
- Director of Pharmacy - Nevada
- Manager of Inpatient Pharmacy - Arizona
- Director of Surgical Services - Nevada
- Administrative Director of Surgical Services - Southern California
- Manager of Neuro Surgical Institute - Southern California
- Manager of Surgical Services - Southern California
- Outpatient Admitting Manager - Southern California

- Clinical Nursing Director/Clinical Practice - Southern California

Creating and maintaining professional relationships is one of our highest priorities at Moore and Associates. We recognize one avenue of meeting that objective is being a visible resource at medical conferences across the country. Every year we attend these events to let the medical community that we are available as a partner in meeting your professional needs. On September 10, 11, 12, 2008 the Northwest Organization of Nurse Executives (NWOENE) held its fall conference. NWOENE meets twice yearly and this latest event was held in Portland, Oregon. Hundreds of Nurse Executives and Nursing professionals from across the country attended the Nursing Congress Convention held this year in Las Vegas, Nevada. Moore and Associates proved to be a visible resource for these attendees, both those seeking assistance with their own management needs and those looking for a reliable, professional firm in exploring new opportunities within their own careers. In early October, 2008 the American Society for Healthcare Human Resources Associates (ASHHRA) gathered in Austin, Texas for its annual conference. Executives often face challenges with recruitment needs. The value of having a reputable, successful healthcare specific search firm available often proves to be the most valuable information these professionals take away.